STUDENTS TAKE OVER

Leaders Assume Head Positions

Faculty Retreats

For the first time in Olivet history, members of the student body will assume the responsibilities of the entire administrative body today and tomorrow as Olivet's faculty retires to Turkey Run State Park.

Reed Replaces Reed

Millard Reed, student body president, will become acting president of Olivet for two days in place of Dr. Harold W. Reed. Eight other student leaders will be working along with "Dr." Millard Reed to carry out the functions of Olivet on Sept. 24 and 25.

Jack Barnell, Aurora editor, will become a Ph.D. for two days as he fulfills the obligations of Dr. Snowbarger as Dean of the college. Acting as "Problem Solver" for today and tomorrow will be "Dr." Dennis Hill, Dean of Students. Hill is the editor of the Glimmerglass and will carry on Dr. Gardner's work.

The Registrar's position, being vacated by Dr. C. S. McClain, will find Cal Mathews, business manager of the Aurora, keeping things in trim. The financial office, under the direction of Mr. C. L. Henderson, will be taken over by Harvey Galloway, capable treasurer of the student body.

Prentiss Tomlinson, acting business manager of the Glimmerglass, will assume Professor Schwada's job in the Placement Bureau Office. Mrs. Donson, Assistant Dean of Students, will have Glenna Nance, W.R.A. president, in charge at Williams Hall.

Olivet's M.D.A. president, Bob Crabtree, will try to keep things under control in Chapman Hall in the absence of Mr. Jeter. Elsie Morse will act as head librarian with Harry Romeril assisting her.

Student teachers will get experience in the classrooms and also sit on the platform during chapel.

These above-mentioned students will be excused today from classes to assume responsibilities included in their individual offices.

Chapel Program

"Inspiration Through Introspection" was the theme in today's chapel program under the direction of Olivet students. Millard Reed introduced the theme and its significance before introducing the speakers of the hour.

Jack Barnell spoke on the subject of Olivet's academic rise and accreditation towards the North Central Association. Following this, Harvey Galloway informed the student body concerning budgets, financial improvements and statistics at Olivet.

To complete this interesting chapel program concerning Olivet's progress in the past, Dennis Hill reported on student-faculty relationships and coordination, and on improvements and situations in dormitory life.

Bar-B-Q Slated

To complete the "Students Take Over" program, a Bar-B-Q will be held Saturday night at 7:15 p. m. in 49ers Park. Folk and secular songs will be led by Wayne Gallup

Short in Wire Kills Student

On Aug. 27, 1954, Phil Norman Hull, 26, was accidentally electrocuted while using an electric drill to repair a power lawn mower.

It was reported that Hull received the shock by standing in water, getting his shoes and feet wet. There was a short in the wiring of the electric drill which sent 110 volts through his body.

He was pronounced dead upon arrival at Whitley County Hospital in Columbia City, Indiana.

Surviving him are: his wife Neva; sons, Steven, 5, and Arden, 3; and a daughter, Patricia, 2. Hull was studying for the ministry at Olivet.

Tackle Replaces Touch

BY MAX DURBIN

After years of anticipation and months of preparation, tackle football is now a reality in the intramural sports program at Olivet. Yesterday marked the first tackle football game played on Olivet's campus. Tackle replaces touch football which has been present on the campus for many years.

Each society team is allowed fifteen players, which is composed of nine regulars and six substitutes. The reason for the limit of only 15 players on each society football team is because the athletic department was able only to purchase 45 outfits of equipment to be shared equally by the three societies.

Strict rules were imposed for pre-season practice and conditioning. Each player was required to take part in six practice sessions before the initial game. The gridders also must attend two practice drills during seasonal play each week.

Mr. Harry Jeter, Chapman Hall resident counselor, conducted the week of pre-season practices. After participating as a single group during the conditioning period, the societies split up into their respective teams to practice plays and develop a spirit of team work.

The biggest gain in membership was noted in the Spartan society with many freshmen listed on the team roster. Also the Indians added power to their membership, while the Trojans will rely on returning gridders from the 1953-1954 season.

When the whistle blew for the opening play of the first game yesterday, each team was seen com-

Approved In The Eyes Of Others

This year marks the 45th anniversary of Olivet College as a Nazarene institution of higher learning. Under Nazarene administration Olivet has developed from a mere Christian workers' school to one of the outstanding liberal arts church colleges of Mid-western United States.

Our college has been accredited as a class "A" four-year-college for 11 years by the University of Illinois. It is also accredited by the Illinois State Department of Education as a teacher training college. Credits from Olivet are readily transferable to other colleges and graduate schools.

An application in the form of a self-survey report, critically analyzing every phase of work at Olivet, was sent to the North Central Association. This was one of the primary accomplishments of Olivet College since the 1953-54 Commencement.

We hope Olivet is in a position to obtain the highest accreditation possible through the North Central Association.

There are some definite values of being accredited by the N.C.A. If accepted, degrees awarded at Olivet would be given more recognition in graduate schools and universities that rely only on N.C.A. recommendation. Through this accreditation the college would be noted as having a higher quality of educational work and administrative policy.

It is possible that through accreditation to the N.C.A. Olivet would be eligible for such financial aids as other colleges receive through corporation funds.

Mention should be made of the fact that the administrative body of Olivet isn't compromising with this issue. They have held firm in their justice to students in the midst of this and have held firm to Olivet's objectives as a Christian college.

Because we haven't been accepted by this association as yet, we are under observation at all times. We as the constituency of Olivet must keep everything up to par. We must "keep our house in order."

In the last inspection, the North Central Association criticized the financial system of student organizations. We were called down on our inefficient handling of finances. However, this year, a sound and uniform bookkeeping system has been constructed by Harvey Galloway, student body treasurer. This is a definite step towards full accreditation, and we trust that all student organizations will co-operate.

Each and every one of us play a part in working towards accreditation with the N.C.A. Let's do our best in classroom, at work, and in our spiritual life. In short, let's co-operate in the complete cultural program at good old Olivet and make the fullest possible usage of all facilities on our campus.

The success and continued progress of Olivet College is due to the co-operative spirit of the student body, the sacrificial work of the professors and administrators, and the loyal support of the Nazarene churches in our zone.

The objective of Olivet has been and will continue to be that of presenting to young people an opportunity whereby they can receive an "education with a Christian purpose."

Therefore, in whatever we do, let us "do it heartily as unto the Lord," so we may be "approved unto God" and unto the North Central Association.

Religion

In the

SPOTLIGHT

BY HARRY ROMERIL

To have a successful year at Olivet is every student's desire. If we are to have such a year, religion must be in the spotlight!

Many times, however, we have a tendency to separate the sacred from the secular. If this is done the sacred loses much of its meaning and life loses its unity. This has been one of the chief problems that the modern church has faced. It is one that we face individually.

I shall never forget one statement that Professor Bangs made to a class last year. He said, "Learn to interpret life in terms of God." If we will do this I believe that our life will be richer and our religion more transforming.

For a practical example, we think that when we study we are serving the mind. We say naively that we are growing in knowledge. But did you ever stop to consider that when you apply yourself intellectually you are channeling a vital part of your life and serving God by doing so?

The same can be said of any social function or athletic contest. They are channels by which you can serve God!

Someone has said, "Put Christ into the center of your life and He will take care of the circumference!" This column therefore could be reduced to one sentence: "Everything is spiritual." There is no division between the sacred and the secular.

Ruth Peters Meets Eisenhower

Peters, F. T. A. Leader Travels Extensively During Summer

Chosen by our local F.T.A. club as president, Ruth Peters of Ogden, Illinois, represented Olivet last spring at the Illinois F.T.A. conference and was elected by the other representatives as State President of the Future Teachers Association of America. Because of her position, Ruth had the privilege of meeting important people and visiting interesting scenes during the summer.

This summer the National Education Association convention was held in New York City. Flying from Chicago to Washington, D. C., on June 16, Ruth met with 54 other state F.T.A. presidents and delegates representing 45 states.

Ruth quoted, "We had many wonderful experiences there. Our meetings were held at the National Education Association headquarters and we toured several interesting places such as, United States Capitol, White House, Lincoln Memorial, Arlington Cemetery, Mt. Vernon, Office of Health, Education and Welfare, in an all-day tour."

We were personally conducted by the United States Commissioner of Education and introduced to many of our educational leaders. He then took us to the White House where we met President Eisenhower and former President Hoover.

We spent some time in Philadelphia, and then went to Albany, New York, for the Teacher Education and Professional Standards' Convention."

Madison Square Garden building and the United Nations building were the convention halls. The attendance exceeded 20,000. Again several points of interest were seen — Statue of Liberty, Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center, NBC Television and Radio Headquarters, Little Church Around the Corner, Cathedral of St. John Divine, and St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Several banquets were held at some of the outstanding hotels of New York. The most important banquet was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel with the celebrities' dinner given by the National School Public Relations Association. The New Yorker, Statler, Astor and Abbey Hotels also had banquets.

During August, Miss Peters spent three days at the Illinois Education Association School of Instruction at Illinois State Normal University at Normal, Illinois.

While traveling 16 different ways, Ruth stopped in Providence, R. I.; Boston, Mass.; Ohio, Michigan, and Wisconsin, arriving home July 10.

and special music will be provided. Following this, the lounge, gymnasium and pool will be open for recreation.

Although this is the first time that the students have ever had the privilege of presiding over Olivet, we trust that this procedure will be interesting and enjoyable for everyone and that a precedent can be set for making this an annual affair.

Faculty Leaves Today

The faculty left Kankakee for Turkey Run State Park at 7:00 A. M. this morning. There will be recreational, devotional, and lecture periods for the two days.

Dr. Paul Updike, district superintendent of the Northeast Indiana district, will conduct the devotional periods each morning.

Charles Ramsden

Featured By Lyceum

Charles Ramsden, electronic musician, presented the first in a series of Lyceum programs last Saturday night in Howe Chapel.

His presentation included a variety of musical and sound effects. On an electric ukulele he played such classical numbers as "Leiberstraum." He exhibited how easy it was to play "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" with a dollar bill.

Mr. Ramsden gave a demonstration of a beginning student learning to play a Spanish guitar and also demonstrated how a guitar could yodel.

This was a very impressive, as well as an educational program.

Comments On Current Events

BY DAVE ELWOOD

The Army-McCarthy hearings are over; the French have lost out in Indo-China; Maine has elected a Democratic governor (the first in twenty years); the political races for this November are under way; and Olivetians have returned for another year of formal study.

More often than not, this formal study tends to inhibit or exclude altogether what we might satisfactorily call informal study. What we have here termed informal study is meant to include newspapers (more than just the comics and Miss Landers) and magazines, the listening to newscasts, and the keeping of a general awareness of national and international happenings.

But formal study shouldn't be unduly criticized in its effect on informal study. Social life, recreation, and just plain loafing take up a portion of the student's time. And these activities, and lack of activities—loafing, are legitimate when they are given the right portion of time.

This brings us up to the point of this article — the correct distribution of time. It is desired that the column, "Comments on Current Events," should do primarily one thing, this thing being to encourage the readers of this column to make themselves aware of what is going on in the world today. This can be done adequately only if the reader correctly distributes his time. He should allow in his schedule time for reading which will make him more informed.

It is hoped that our comments will be of such a nature as to help the reader to take this responsibility upon himself.

We have written mostly today in order to make clear the goal of this column. The material will in the future correspond more to "Comments on Current Events." In the meantime, give a portion of your time to becoming informed.

Cupid's Corner

BY MAXINE DAWSON

As usual during the summer months Cupid worked over-time getting Olivet's students down that "middle aisle."

Among the couples taking their vows this past summer were: Wilma Monce and Wayne Gallup; Hilda Hurdle and John Neff; Lois DuVall and Jim Knox; Dorine Nichols and Jerry Nichols; Sue Hegwood and Jerry Newby; Gladys Ellen and Ronnie McQueen; Jean Estelle and Jack Barnell; Marilyn Zinn and Paul Miller; Betty Folkens and Marvin Thill; Carol McClain and Wayne Ingalls; Frances Grandy and Jim Sheckler; Helen Bos and Floyd Kanipe; Beulah Christensen and Richard Brooks; Virginia Sink and Glenn Leib; Marjorie DeBooy and Glenn Harmon.

Not to be left out were those who recently announced their engagements: Lena Green and Mel O'Bannon; Pat Seeley and Dick Frye; Marilyn Starkey and Willie DeWitt; Mary Bobb and Keith Hawley.

May we offer congratulations to all those who have taken the step and to all those anticipating it.

Musical Notes

BY DARLENE BARKER

Greetings once again from Goodwin! With the new school year now underway, Goodwin Hall, home of the Fine Arts Department, is teeming with activity, new faces, and new plans to make this an outstanding year.

By the looks of things, music directors seeking the aid of musicians this year will have ample resource from which to select. With registration now completed, the Fine Arts Department claims forty-two new music majors. No doubt, out of this number we will soon be seeing performances by several outstanding musicians.

Perhaps the most noticeable improvement made in Goodwin Hall is the installation of a new Moller pipe organ which was placed in the recital hall this summer. Other improvements appear in the re-decoration of music studios.

Auditions for school choirs have been held and the Orpheus Choir personnel was announced early this week. Besides the Orpheus and Olivetians, a new Apollo Chorus is being organized this year. This chorus, under the direction of Professor Naomi Larsen, will certainly add interest and vitality to our chapel and our church services.

Our instrumentalists have already "tuned up" their instruments and have started to work. The orchestra, directed by Harlow Hopkins, and Professor Bang's band and brass choir are already busy practicing for the new year. Permanent membership was announced after preliminary practice was completed.

Two members of the faculty are taking graduate work at the University of Illinois. They are Jewell Flaughter, instructor in violin and acting chairman of the Department of Strings, and Dr. Walter B. Larsen, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

This summer found several faculty members and students serving musically in touring the educational zone. Our representatives were Professors Daniel Liddell and Jewell Flaughter, Gerald Newby, Dick North, Charles Bowers, Lester Hart, Milt Houghtaling, James Smith, Gene Phillips, Charles Hasselbring, and Darrell Trotter.

$168,464.20 PAID BY DISTRICTS

This year $168,464.20 has been paid into Olivet College in district apportionments.

The amount paid in so far is an increase of $7,190.48 over that paid in by this time last year.

The is an increase in giving by our local churches and has greatly helped Olivet College to carry on its purpose.

Dr. Williamson Revival Speaker

The fall revival, scheduled to begin October 10th and continuing through the 17th, will feature Dr. G. B. Williamson, General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, as speaker, and Mr. Jack Bierce of Logansport, Indiana, as song evangelist.

Services will be held daily during the chapel period and each night at 7:30. Sunday services will be held at the regular time.

In addition to serving the Church of the Nazarene as General Superintendent for the past nine years, Dr. Williamson also was President of Eastern Nazarene College for nine years.

He served as General N. Y. P. S. President for eight years and was a delegate to the International Youth Convention, held in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1936.

Mr. Bierce, baritone soloist and song leader, has been a commissioned song evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene for the past several years.

Other Revivals for 1954-55

Two other revival campaigns are scheduled for this school year. Youth Week will be observed from Jan. 26-30, and the spring revival, featuring Rev. J. Southerland Logan of London, England, will be held from Mar. 6-13.

New Revised Version Of Faculty Manual

The "Faculty Manual" of 1951-52 was edited, revised and brought up to date as of 1954 by the special institutional study committee.

The purpose of the revised version of the manual is to "provide such information as new faculty members need in order to orient themselves to the procedures and policies of Olivet Nazarene College."

This book outlines the duties of faculty members and administrative officers and is a guide to academic and counseling procedures.

Michigan Motorcade Here Next Week

The Michigan district motorcade, under the direction of Rev. Paul Moore of Three Rivers, Michigan, will be on Olivet's campus Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Bruce Phillips and Jack Barnell are the student chairmen for this event.

Over 100 Michigan high school pupils are expected to arrive at 4:00 P. M. on the 30th.

Student committees have been formed. They are as follows: Publicity—Freda Hawk and Nancy Tesch; Special entertainment—Bev Fullerton, Milton Houghtaling, Floyd Kanipe, Ray Reglin, and Jim Smith; Meals—Jean Barnell and Elsie Morse.

There will be a special program on Thursday night for the motorcaders.

Campus Improves During Summer

A new medical center, athletic equipment, better plumbing facilities for Walker Hall, and a high-pressure steam line for the swimming pool, are among added improvements at Olivet this year.

The former Greer practice hall has been redecorated with partitions, paint, and linoleum to become Olivet's new medical center. This building contains a large waiting room, offices, examining rooms, and a prescription room.

The high-pressure steam line for Birchard's swimming pool will provide controlled heat for the swimming pool. This was a $3,000 to $4,000 project but very necessary in view of the sieve-like condition of the old pipe.

A Hot Point oven and a garbage disposal unit were added to the kitchen of the cafeteria. Also a new chapel entrance has been completed on the southeast side of the Ad building.

Editor's Note—It has been predicted that the chapel speakers will be more pungent now that there is a convenient escape on the east side of the platform!

AUTUMN IDYL

BY JOE HERDLER

At last the days are drawing nigh,
When cool winds sweep a crystal sky;
When trees with tarnish heavy hang,
Where yesterday spring's robin sang.

The moon pours amber liquid beams,
That fill the fields and frosty streams;
For summer's green has turned to gold,
And larders full we'll soon behold.

The days grow long, the nights are chill,
Rich harvest robes the distant hill;
And as the reaper's sickles fall,
We know the Master giveth all.

BY REV. L. GUY NEES

Question: "What is sanctification and how do we begin to seek the experience?"

Answer: My young friend, you have asked two very important questions, and yet two questions that are difficult to answer in just a sentence. However, let me try!

John Wesley emphasized the importance between sanctification and "entire sanctification." Sanctification, in the general sense of the word, begins in conversion and continues on throughout the life of the sincere Christian. But Wesley points out that "entire sanctification" is a crisis experience, the "second blessing" properly so called, to be received by the born-again Christian after he has been saved.

According to our church manual, "We believe that entire sanctification is that act of God, subsequent (after and in addition) to regeneration, by which believers are made free from original sin, or depravity, and brought into a state of entire devotion to God, and the holy obedience of love made perfect."

As to receiving the blessing, four steps have been listed by the late Dr. J. B. Chapman as follows:

- (1) To see and acknowledge its desirability,
- (2) To choose definitely to have it,
- (3) Consecration, and
- (4) Faith.

For easy reading on this important subject let me suggest 3 books: "What is Sanctification," by Leslie Parrott; "The Nazarene Primer," by J. B. Chapman; and "The Christian's Secret of a Happy Life," by Hannah Whitehall Smith. (All of these are in our College library.)

QUESTION: "Why can't we receive both justification and sanctification at the same time?"

ANSWER: The conditions are not the same for each experience. The conditions for justification are repentance and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. While the conditions for being sanctified are as listed in the above answer. In fact the conditions for being sanctified are such as to render it impossible for them to be met until one has been saved from his sins.

When one comes to be saved he comes as a rebel laying down his arms of rebellion in complete submission. When one comes to be sanctified he comes as a child of God ready to take up his arms of holy warfare in full commitment to God.

Library Funds Are Increasing

As of Sept. 18, $185,000 has been pledged towards the new Memorial Library, of which amount $43,187.28 has been paid.

It is estimated by C. C. Briggs, architect, that the building will cost $225,000. Before construction can begin, $75,000 in cash will be needed.

Hello! sport fans of ONC and a special hello to the new freshmen who have joined our ranks this fall. We sincerely hope that through this column we can make the sports program at Olivet of interest to the entire student body.

To start the sports activity this year, let's take a look at football! Almost all of you know that tackle football replaces the traditional game of "touch" on our college gridiron.

From all pre-season reactions tackle football is shaping into a big battle — any one of the three teams may come out victorious. The Spartans look like the most improved team with the Indians and Trojans, last year's champions, at their heels.

Mr. Jeter did a swell job getting the teams in shape during the pre-season practice periods. Also, the coaches deserve recognition. They are Bob (married man) Squires, Dave ("Why didn't we get more freshmen") Boice, and Harry ("We got the team") Romeril. Each coach showed a team spirit in preparing his society for action.

I for one don't want to miss a game! Let's all back our team and make this first year of tackle football a worthwhile year.

Don't forget the softball season which runs parallel with the football season. From all angles it looks like a good season with all teams in there pitching.

In case you haven't heard, Professor Jim Johnson is going to teach a swimming class this semester.

26 Register For Olivet Academy; Officers Chosen

Michigan, California, Missouri, Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio are states represented by the 26 students enrolled in the Academy this semester.

Class elections were held Sept. 14. The following were elected: For the senior class, Donna Anderson, president; Betty Ellen, vice-president Nancy Whipple, secretary-treasurer. John Muhn is the sponsor of the senior class, and Mrs. Donson is the faculty advisor. For the undergraduates, Dan Schultz is president.

On Sept. 20, a special meeting was called for those wishing to work on the Academy newspaper, "The Spark Plug." Nancy Whipple will act as editor this year, and issues will be distributed every other week.

The entire Academy is looking forward to a successful and eventful year, both educationally and spiritually.

Millard Reed, Student Council president, has announced the grand opening of the Wagon Wheel for Thursday, Oct. 8.

It is now in the process of being completely redecorated. John Petrie, a senior, will be in charge this year.

Indian Girls Defend Softball Laurels

Under the coaching of Norma Blockberger the Indians are out to retain their softball championship with returning letter winners Janet Storer, Joan Hendershot, Doris Anderson, and Coach Norma.

The Trojan girls, after losing only one member of last year's team, are looking forward to their fall sports card with anticipations of a victorious year with their coach, Bev Hickler. All-Stars returning for the Blues include Ruth Peters, Rosella Scott, and Bev Hickler.

The hard-hit Spartans are out for new recruits this year with no returning All-Stars.

Come on gang! Get out to the games and cheer your team to victory.

pletely outfitted with new tackle football uniforms purchased during the summer. Individual teams were dressed in the colors of their respective societies, but white helmets will be the tradition of all the players.

Congratulations are to be offered to Professor Elmore Vail, head of the athletic department; Ronnie McQueen, Spartan Captain; and Mr. Jeter for their efforts in getting everything in shape for the opening game.

Freshmen Displayed Talent September 17

Judging from the Freshman Talent Show which was held Friday evening, Sept. 17, this year's freshman class is loaded with talent. Starting with Martha Reed's piano solo, "Scherzo in E Minor" by Mendelssohn, the program included a variety of humorous, classical, popular, and religious numbers.

Next on the program for the evening was Ralph Fisher with a bass horn solo, "Forty Fathoms." A freshman quartet — Byron Hendley, Tom Ramquist, Miles Simmons, and Gene Kline — followed with an original interpretation of "Coney Island Baby." Harold Rogers, singing an entirely different type of song, "I'll Take Up My Cross," was fourth on the program.

One of the highlights of the evening came with John Deal's trumpet solo including "Stardust," "Blue Skies," and "Sugar Blues." Craig Hartberg, tenor, followed, singing the popular "Danny Boy." Another outstanding performance was turned in by Dwight McMurrin, who played a waltz by Brahms.

An entirely different vein of music was set with a flute duet, "Yield Not to Temptation" by Faye Seiffert and Pat Pinner. A girl's trio comprised of Maxine Hickler, Gwen Johnson, and Faye Seiffert was next with another sacred song, "He Holds My Hand." Two freshmen boys, Glenn Sparks and Don Lawrence, who won first ratings in the State of Illinois, were present to sing "Without A Song," and "O What a Beautiful Morning," respectively. The program was rounded out with a beautiful contralto solo, "He'll Understand," sung by Bonnie Wells.

Mitchell's One-Hitter Defeats Indians 11-0

The Trojans drew first blood in the 1954-55 intramural sports program at Olivet by downing the Indians 11-0 in a softball game played Monday, Sept. 20.

Jim Mitchell, veteran right hander, pitched the Trojans to the first victory by allowing only one hit. Scotty Gardner got the only hit off Mitchell as lead off man in the top of the second.

A grand slam homer in the third inning by Jim Smith proved to be the big blow from the Trojans. The Trojan batters collected nine hits off the Indian hurlers.

Lee Durbin started for the Indians but was soon knocked out in the third inning.

Through the Keyhole

BY MAXINE DAWSON

The radio's silent,
a lonesome thing.
The phone in the corner's forgotten to ring.
The rugs on the floor
are unscuffed by young feet.
No panting jalopy
waits out in the street.
And Dad hasn't smiled for a week,
to my knowledge,
Since the girl (and boy) in our life went off blithely to college.

The preceding poem expresses exactly how, overnight, a silent campus has turned into a beehive of activity and another school year is off to a busy start. May we take this opportunity to welcome all the new students, and we hope you'll find our campus a nice place to live.

As Bob Squires conducted the junior class elections last week, the door opened and in walked a bewildered but earnest student. "Are you Dr. Demaray?", he inquired of Bob. After recovering from his initial shock, Bob regained enough composure to hastily assure the student that he was not and that he must have the wrong class room. Maybe it's your distinguished look that fooled him, Bob!

Byron Hendley may not have had the right girl, but he certainly had the right idea. It seems Byron asked Sue Bayes for a date, but he forgot to ask which dorm she lived in. When he called for her, much to his dismay, the receptionist could not find Sue any place; but she did have a Carol Bates listed. When she asked if this could be the girl, he replied, "I don't know, but bring me one of them."

As Bob Davis came wandering sleepily into class, Professor Mitten asked why he was late. To this question Bob replied, "I guess the bell

300 Freshmen Are Orientated

There were approximately 300 freshmen who were orientated from Sept. 7-10, and who adjusted themselves to the different phases of campus life.

A series of tests were given to the new students to discover the aptitudes and achievements of each.

A Friday night party, with Millard Reed as master of ceremonies, climaxed the orientation program for the first-year students.

just rang before I got here."

The freshmen learn fast these days. As Carol Lockwood was checking chapel one morning, Miles Simmons innocently looked up and asked where he could pick up a drop slip for this class. What's the matter Miles, don't you like chapel?

I understand Harry Romeril received a card from three of last year's seniors now at seminary: Dave Miller, Chuck Taylor, and Chuck McCullough. They informed him that they felt right at home with all the big wheels and in a few weeks they would turn the place into a second ONC. That should be interesting!

The students are not the only persons who have been filling out questionnaires in the past. Dean Snowbarger sent a questionnaire to all faculty members some time ago. He tried to get the faculty's idea and thoughts concerning the relationship between the Dean and the faculty.

To his surprise, Dean Snowbarger found that some members of the faculty don't like the Dean of the college because he is too tall. He is always looking down on them!

Editor's Note:

I'd like to remind you that this column is written for you, about you, and by you. "It's your column." Help keep it that way by passing on any interesting stories or humorous incidents you hear of, so all of us may enjoy them.

Armed Forces Take Olivet Students

Several young men who were connected with Olivet last year are now in the Armed Forces.

Airman 3rd Class Parr is stationed at Lory Air Force Base in Denver, Colorado. Ken was considering entering Olivet this fall as a freshman, but enlisted on June 8.

Pvt. Mitten is at present on furlough and will be stationed at Fort McArthur near Los Angeles, California, upon returning on Oct. 3. Don had finished his freshman year before enlisting.

Pvt. Reader, who would have been a junior, is stationed at Sam Houston Base, San Antonio, Texas. He is now on furlough until Sept. 25.

After entering service on Sept. 9, Tom Short was sent to Fort Leonard in St. Louis, Missouri, for his basic training. This year he would have been a senior and also Business Manager of the Glimmerglass.
